

PMM Book Rating Guide

There are a cross section of readers out there world! I enjoy writing novels that are a cross section of genres. So far I have written in science-fiction/fantasy, contemporary romance, magical realism, historical fiction, historical romance, mystery/detective and pic fantasy. While so many of you across ages and genres may enjoy a variety of books, it is helpful for some of you to know whether my novels are appropriate for your teenager. Several of my books have yet to be published, so this guide will be updated from time to time in the future. The following is a book rating guide to help you decide.

- Red are 16-18+, they include one or more of the following: sexual content, violence, frightening scenes, and language.
- Yellow are 14-16+, they include one or more of the following: language, violence, frightening scenes. Moderate steamy sexual content is generally fade-to-black or not written in detail.
- Green are 12-14+, they are lighter on violence and language and contain very few or no sexual scenes.

PLEASE NOTE: This list is not meant to fit everyone’s comfort levels and personal ratings. This is only a guide. Several of my novels also contain separate content warnings to help guide the reader or potential consumer in making the most appropriate purchase for their leisure. This guide is not solely for your teenager, but also acts as a guide for adults as well. It is left to the reader’s maturity and reasonable expectation for making the best decision suitable for his or his child’s reading needs and development. As adults, teenagers range in maturity, experience and understanding levels. You as parent or guardian are best suited as a well-informed caregiver to make the most appropriate selection of readings for your children. The author considers this rating guide a useful tool, but does not assume liability or expect for any reader who uses it to solely rely upon it as an introduction to any books written by the author, Patricia M. Muhammad.
